Energy: Changes and Challenges

Free and open to the public.

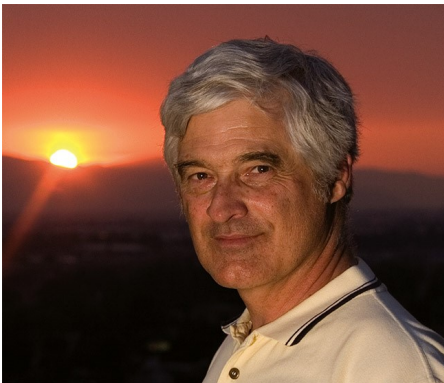

Sunday, February 18th, 2024

2:00 - 4:00 p.m.

at the Paradise Center, Paradise, MT

Learn about the status of energy needs and challenges in Montana and what can be done.

Presenters and Topics:

Steve Running

Professor Emeritus from UofM. Dr. Running is a recognized national leader on energy issues. He has focused his career on creating ways to better understand the impacts of climate change and his dynamic update will help attendees better understand current energy needs and issues.

Monica Tranel

Democratic Candidate for US House. Monica is an attorney who has made a reputation representing ratepayers in the courtroom against energy monopolies. She will define and target how Congress can provide the legislative leadership and funding necessary to address energy challenges going forward.

Brian Lipscomb

President and CEO of Energy Keepers. His tribal, regional, and national leadership provides visionary plans for energy sustainability into the future guiding the Confederated Salish and Kootenai tribes' ownership and operation of the first ever tribal hydroelectric dam along with their additional plans for solar and wind.
